

While in Manila, Philippines, for a series of talks, Mr. Keith Darcy, former Executive Director of the Ethics and Compliance Officer Association (ECO), met with Mr. Manuel V. Pangilinan, Chairman of PLDT, SMART, Metro Pacific Investments Corporation and MERALCO and senior executives of the MVP Group of Companies on February 4, 2014 in Makati City, to personally thank them for the Group's support and continuing partnership with the ECOA and ECOA Foundation. Based in Waltham, MA, USA, ECOA is a worldwide association of ethics and compliance practitioners and provides its members with an unparalleled network of peers and a global forum for the exchange of ideas and strategies as they address the tough issues they face everyday. The association draws value from the diversity of cultures and industries represented among its members. Two of the MVP Companies (PLDT and MPIC) are sponsoring partner members and eleven of its ethics and compliance officers are associate members of ECOA. Meeting with Keith Darcy are (l to r) Elmer D. Nitura, Head/VP, Corporate Governance Office, SMART, and currently a Director of ECOA; Orlando B. Vea, Chief Wireless Advisor, SMART; Jose Ma. K. Lim, President & CEO, Metro Pacific Investments Corporation; Napoleon L. Nazareno, President & CEO, PLDT/SMART; Ma. Lourdes C. Rausa-Chan, SVP/General Counsel and Chief Governance Officer, PLDT; Oscar S. Reyes, President & CEO, Manila Electric Company; Vincent Edward R. Festin, Senior Manager/Head, PLDT CG-Education; and Jose Jesus G. Laurel, VP/General Counsel and Chief Compliance Officer, MPIC.
